

PES PEDIATRIC ENDOCRINE SOCIETY

Durga Singer, MD
University of Michigan

Career Pathways for Pediatric Endocrine Fellows
January 14, 2022

PedsENDO365 PART 2: Career Pathways for Pediatric Endocrine Fellows

Current primary position :

Associate Professor in Pediatric Endocrinology, Secondary in Molecular and Integrative Physiology

Other roles:

Associate Director Graduate Program in Immunology

Faculty Advisor in Faculty Development

Acting Associate Chair for DE&I Department of Pediatrics

National roles:

SPR council member

Co-chair elect for the Women's Interprofessional Network of the American Diabetes Association

PES – member of obesity SIG, RAC, and workforce taskforce

PedsENDO365 PART 2: Career Pathways for Pediatric Endocrine Fellows

Degrees/Training Formal:

MA in Biophysics, MD

Informal training:

K award committee, faculty development course work, AAMC early career faculty session

Pathway:

- Reaching out to senior faculty for advice and guidance
- Learning about being a multiplier and about the importance of grit
- Read about leading groups, starting a lab
- Engaging in career development opportunities

Skills:

- Understanding your goals – building a goals sheet of short and long-term
- Leading and communicating at all levels – engaging with seniors, peers, and those you supervise